As you sit across the deck from Max Sanders at the Stock Yards Bank, an attractive paperweight pipe lights up the area. An examination reveals the inscription, "Compliments of Smoke Ringer."

Watch the face of personable Charlie Thompson. Hean with pride as he points to another cob pipe suspended from an honored spot in his fireplace's office. It's his Smoke Ringer's Award.

Drop in on Freeman Robinson, lately honored by Smoke, and you'll find Freeman mighty happy to display his "Famous Old Pipe," and tell you that he got a big "kick" from being recognized as a man who liked other men and their youngsters.

Max, Claude and Freeman represent only a few Jefferson County men who have done things to make other people happy and thus qualify for Smoke's famous cob pipe.

Others recognized lately by "Smoke" are Mrs. L. A. Rarthers, Jolly E. White, Orville J. Stevens, Norton Sanders, Mrs. L. A. Rarthers, Judge Barker and Miles Thacker.

Smoke's pipe of the week award always goes to somebody who has made some happy and who has made living easier for somebody else.

That's the reason Smoke Ringer's famous cob pipe this week goes to St. Matthews and the man whom Smoke Ringer considers, not only the best sports writer in the nation, but also the best friend Kentucky boys and girls have.

Smoke's famous pipe of the week is thus proudly presented to Earl Ruby, popular sports' editor of the Courier-Journal, who, through his writing and associations, has caused boys to play in gymsnasiums who would otherwise have been doing things much less wholesome.

Smoke Ringer goes into every nook and corner of Kentucky and knows where he speaks. Earl Ruby, however, is the award of the "Toasts" Club Monday night. It's a great Jefferson County who look around and find that many people working to make life a bit easier for other people.

Take a look at the work Burton Stevens and Mrs. R. R. Williamson have done and are doing in St. Matthews for youngsters.

Then hop over to Lyndon and participate in the activities planned for the summer by everyone by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dodson. It's refreshing.

If you're "down in the dumps," just turn the nose of your car toward Jeffersontown and Smoke Ringer will buy you one hamburger (with onion) if you are not cheered up by the work of recreation leaders, Mrs. Maudie Krieger and Milton Frenz.

Now to Buechel! H. L. Scott is a Valley Pool look up to William Crutcher who is one of Smoke's best friends and also one of the best friends Valley kids would have. Tell him Smoke Ringer blew a smoke ring over his way.

All right, Jefferson County, you wanted "Old Ringer" to let you in on some prospective candidates for his famous cob pipe awards . . . so take a peep at humanitarians whose smoke ring is catching because they are doing things.

Fern Creek has Jim Bates and Jiff Dawson, Fairdale has Nelson Hornback, it's Mrs. Harvey Campbell at Prestonia and her friend Mrs. Phillip Ash, while at Cave Run Taylor and Fincastle, it's likely to be Ray Stoenfeld, Hobart or Mrs. Evelyn Schmitt.

Nope, this "ain't" the crock smoke Smoke knows where more swell people grow.

If anybody ever finds a man who works harder physically for the good of his community than Father Joseph Newman of Shively, please drop Ringer a line for he has never seen an angel.

There's also George Miller at Shively who, with his team mate of Ray Racer, and at Cave Run the finger points to Bob Marquess and Sara Marquess. You know what? Old Smoke's just downright glad that he was blessed with a home in Jefferson County where men are men, women are women and everybody is willing to lay aside petty differences to make the county a great place for kids.

Toastmasters Club Gets Speech Practice

By Charlie Vetter

When James P. Haynes, manager of the Louisville Board of Trade and president of the Louisville Toastmasters International Club, swings his gavel Monday evenings at the Kentucky Hotel he calls to order 30 Toastmasters, many of whom are from Jefferson County.

Toastmasters is a most worthwhile club for men who like other men and who want to become better speech makers. The main object of Toastmasters is to gain experience in public speaking and in the art of toastmastership and parliamentary procedure.

At no time may the membership be bowed over with the humor of it. Why is that, anyway?

Earl Ruby, National Honor Sports Writer, was the first Toastmaster president and is one of the club's best speakers. This Monday night Earl is to be honored at the Toastmasters dinner by the presentation from the Jeffersonian's Smoke Ringer. Earl is to receive one of "Smoke's" famous cob pipes for exerting his influence to the extent that boys' over Kentucky play ball in gymsnasiums which would never have been built had not their construction been stimulated by Ruby's Report. Because he did something for somebody else Earl is to receive Smoke Ringer's pipe of the week award.

J'town Horse Show Pleases Spectators

The Third Annual Jeffersontown Horse Show sponsored by the Jeffersontown Area Recreation Board played to enthusiastic audiences last Saturday and Sunday.

The premier horse event of the season, the program provided thrills and interest for the spectators and participants.

Lovely Lady Jayn, temperamental entry in the ladies fine harness class Saturday night, dumped the driver, Miss Jean Harrison, and went careening on her own about the ring four times before she was stopped by Ray Lindsay and brought under control. Miss Harrison was not injured.

Rumbling still won the open walking horse championship ridden by his owner, Guy Wadlow; Miss Ann Huber rode Melody Ann for the pony class trophy and Betty Czell captured the honor on Molly McCre owned by Miss Huber.

WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS QUINIS... Above is Dr. J. L. Smith with the Fairbury (Nebr.) Cornshaker quints. They have been named after the Big Five. Left to right, England, Russia, China, United States and France. All but France are bulls. Although less than half the weight of average beef calves at birth, at six months they are fully as big and as weighty as best calves of the same age born singly. They will leave leading fairs this summer. Chamber of Commerce at Fairbury has built them a modern home. Wayne Photo.

Minutes of June Session Good Government Committee

The meeting of the Good Government Committee of Jefferson County was held at the Nicholas Hotel, at Fern Creek, Ky., on June 14, 1946. Dinner was served at 6:30 and the meeting was called to order by the chairman, C. A. Hummel, at 7:25 p. m.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. In addition to the regular members of the committee, the following were present: Judge Horace Barker and Commissioners E. P. White, Edward Torstrik and Misses Katherine Barker, Leo Schuler, chairman of the projects sub-committee, reported on the floodwall, together with Henry Nuffer. They reported they had met with John Gramish and others, on several occasions, and had gone into the project thoroughly with the Louisville Area Development Association.
It was recommended that the cost outside the floodwall district be raised, so that people in that area would not be isolated in case of a flood.
The Shively Community Club endorsed the project 100 per cent, and likewise at a meeting of the Cane Run Improvement Club, where approximately 200 people attended on about June 11, 1946, which was open to the public, it was unanimous that a floodwall was necessary.
United States Engineers reported that the wall would be so constructed that the property owners could cultivate even on the top of it, and would not change the size of said wall.
Seventy-two homes were said to lie between the floodwall and the river, near Lake Dreamland. These people wanted to be included within the floodwall, but the reason they were excluded was because it was such low land that it would apparently create too much of a pumping problem.
Many homes could be moved, but it was thought that 17 homes would have to be destroyed completely, if the wall were made larger to include the 72 homes that it was first thought would be left out of the floodwall area.
The people in the flood area filed a petition requesting their protection by the floodwall, and the same was delivered to Judge Barker. Ten to twelve large corporations with holdings in that area, had made no expression as of the above date.
Henry Nuffer reported that the committee activities were chiefly on whether a majority of the people were in favor of a floodwall. While some wanted the floodwall route changed, it was estimated that 98 per cent of the people of that area wanted the floodwall.
The committee reported that an estimate for the maintenance of the pumping station and the floodwall, would be between $15,000 and $25,000 yearly.
They further estimated that

MEAT CUT Quiz
Q. What are the names of these cuts of meat?
A. These are two half leg roasts of lamb, the shank half and the sirloin half.
Q. Where do these cuts come from, and how are they identified?
A. Both cuts come from the long cut leg of lamb. The shank half is the lower half of the leg, including part of the leg and shank bones. The sirloin half is the upper half of the leg, and usually includes the sirloin bone. Both cuts show connection of the leg bone.
Q. How are these cuts prepared?
A. Either half of a leg of lamb is prepared in the same manner as a whole leg, by roasting. Place the roast, fat side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Roast at 325 degrees (300°F). Allow 30 to 35 minutes per pound. If a meat thermometer is used, it will register 175 to 180°F. when the roast is done.

was figured on the basis of the right-of-way being eight miles long, with a width somewhere around 200 to A 10-foot levee would require the moving of about seven houses.
It was stated that placing the wall right on the river bank would cause a tremendous pumping problem, so that the United States engineers want to have the wall back from the river.
The only real objection was to the placing of one third of a mile of the wall, but it was reported that all people were in favor of the floodwall project.
Judge Barker pointed out that the three questions to be considered by the committee were: First—Is the flood wall wise? Second—Do the people want it? Third—What is the estimated cost of the right-of-way?

Judge Barker emphasized that the report of the committee was important to the Fiscal Court, and that all the information which was pertaining thereto.
Nuffer reported that the wall goes through the poorest land in the south end of the Jefferson County, and they told the people they would have to sacrifice somewhat to get the protection. Some of the population had offered to contribute their land, where the wall did not hurt them.
They reported that Kramer was the engineer to go over the territory, and that he had advised that the floodwall would only protect the people one foot higher than the 1937 flood. The narrow point of the wall on top, would be approximately 12 feet wide and the rest of the wall that will be concrete are the gates.
Thacker, White and Torstrik also spoke briefly.
County Attorney Steinfeld reported that he had examined the income tax reports of certain companies, and also the reports of the County Assessor's Office, and that in many instances the inventories shown in Frankfort were ten to one higher than the inventories of the same people listed in the County Assessor's Office.
Steinfeld stated that a letter would likely be sent out to the people, asking them to correct errors on the tax return in the Assessor's Office, but if it were not done, that suits for recovery would be filed, going back for a period of ten years on fraud. It was estimated that between $25,000 and $30,000,000 in assessments would be added through this source.
Judge Barker reported that he had had two or three conferences with State Road Engineer Steve Watson, and that he and County Engineer Roberts were going to Frankfort on June 19 to try to get Watkins to tell them where the first leg of the cross country highway, or beltline highway, was to start, and where it was to end.
Also, they were to discuss with Engineer Watkins the question of the higher funds, and report that the State allow the County to use its discretion as to the amount to be spent on rural roads.
It was pointed out by Judge Barker that the State requires $400,000 to be spent per mile, and County Engineer Roberts stated that he thought $15,000 per mile would be adequate in many instances, and thereby the County would be able to repair a great many more of the County roads.
Paul Kendall reported that he and Nuffer had gone to the L.A. D.A. and gotten information on the beltline highway, and reported there was a real need for such a highway.
Mr. Jagelley said he would attend the Fiscal Court meeting on June 19, 1946.
Chairman Hummel called for other sub-committee reports, and Jagelley, chairman of Health and Sanitation Committee, reported they had no sites for landfills.
It was suggested the committee contact Carl Miller at Jeffersontown and Mr. Quisenberry, who could be helpful in obtaining the sites. It was thought these two men could furnish four sites for landfills, as Quisenberry could furnish two of them.
Mr. Blake reported that the County school term for next year would be ten months, equalizing the City term.
It was reported by the Drainage Committee that certain creeks need draining. Mr. McCallum reported that Pond Creek was in bad need of drainage.
County Engineer Roberts reported that they were thinking of buying flamethrowers from the United States Government to clear the river bank, as such intense heat from the phosphorus fire would immediately consume all in front of it, and also was not as likely to spread and get out of control as a forest fire.
G. A. Bryant, chairman of the Transportation Committee, reported that he had talked to the bus companies, and said the companies told them they wanted new buses and new equipment, but they were hard to get. They also stated they were using all the equipment they had.
Judge Barker reported that the two biggest controversies they would likely have this next year would be with the buses over the transportation problem, and the insurance companies to reduce the fire insurance rates when they have completed the three large fire stations which will be used in center of the County Police Department. It was pointed out that the Fiscal Court would need to know how many buses were on order by the companies.
It was suggested by Judge Barker that the Good Government Committee request the Fiscal Court for funds to purchase letterheads which would display the individuality of the Good

JESUS' FRIENDS CARRY ON HIS WORK

LESSON TEXT—MAT. 28: 1-10, 13, 15
Lk. 24: 1-7; Jn. 20: 1-18; 1 Cor. 15: 1-8

Friendship brings our own interest, and by its desire to bring others into its helpful circle of influence.

The disciples had seen the risen Lord, a privilege which carried with it the responsibility of declaring the good news of completed redemption to all the nations of the earth.

Blessed Preaching (Mark 16: 15, 16, 17, 20)
The call and commission of the Lord were caught up into heaven and clear and definite. Good glad news was preached, and had such blessed results.

The response of these early Christians was immediate and enthusiastic. Would that such a spirit had characterized the church through all the generations since then, and if it had, the commission would long since have been carried out. It is estimated that if everyone in a church of two thousand were to win one soul a year, and each convert who one soul each year, the world would be evangelized in less than thirty-five years. Why not?

But while on the whole the church has failed, there have been valiant souls all down through history who have given themselves to the business of preaching the gospel.

With them, as with these of the first century, the secret is over: "The Lord working with them."

II. Powerful Witnessing (Luke 24: 48-49)
The death and resurrection of Christ made possible the preaching of the gospel to all nations, and the message of redemption which was to go out to all nations through the world.

They were witnesses of these things, they spoke that which they saw, and they were bold, and so their word carried weight and conviction. That, however, was not the secret of their success. The secret was something more.

It is never enough for a man to speak the word of God, he must be, by his own life, a living example of the power of God. He must have the power of God.

The early believers were to carry out the mission of the Holy Spirit. We need only yield to him for he is present with every believer—the indwelling One—ready to empower and use.

We need a real revival of the Holy Spirit power in the church, and we need now, if the church as a whole will not yield to God, let us do so as individuals that we may be witnesses with power.

God is looking for men. He has always honored those who in faith have obeyed his command. The whole history of church and mission endeavor bears eloquent testimony to that fact.

III. Glad Soul-Winning (Acts 2: 46, 47; 5: 42)
There are a number of things in this passage. There is the fellowship of the believers in the early church. We also note that they were regular in their attendance at the temple. They preached and taught both in the temple and at home. But the significant thing which we wish to note now is that it all resulted in the salvation of souls.

The Lord added to the church by day those that were saved, "for" such is the proper reading of verse 47. Day by day souls were won for Christ and added to the church. Why do we not have more churches of that kind today?

The church, which is so much the center of life for Christians, is not as well understood as it should be. We have come to regard it as just one organization among many competing for the attention and interest of men, while it is really a divine, living organism, established by Christ as his body and representing him in this world.

The church is made up of those who are saved (v. 47), those who have received the word by faith and witnessed a good confession of their faith in Christ (v. 41). This is a fact to be remembered in a time when there is so much laxness in receiving members into the church. It is not a religious or social club. It is not a rallying place for those who wish to work for some economic, political, or social project. It is not a gathering of good people who wish to share common interests.

The church needs to cleanse its rolls of all unbelievers, all hangers-on, and to get back to the purity which it had when only those were received who were manifestly "added" by the Lord (v. 47).

Red Cross Call For Volunteer Knitters

The Red Cross needs volunteer knitters to take out yarn to be made into cardigan sweaters and walking cast toe socks for hospitalized servicemen; V-necked sleeveless sweaters for Army men; and children's sweaters for overseas relief. Volunteers are also needed to sew pajamas for hospitalized men.

plial use. Yarn and material should be called for at the Victorian Building, 1301 South 4th St., Monday through Fridays from 8 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Recent letters from French refugees expressed appreciation for garments sent from the Louisville Cross Chapter. Jeannette Fourties of Le Cuing said: "Thanks to you the warm and magnificent sweaters received are a protection me from the cold." W. Berorick of Toulouse said in his letter: "It is with pleasure that I receive from you some clothes which are most welcome. I am 14 years old and all of my family was deported since it is now 13 years since I have had news. I thank you most sincerely. Accept, dear wishes."

COUNTY ITEMS

Chaplain Walter H. Ewing of the Central State Hospital at Lakeside, Ky., with the approval of Dr. A. M. Lyon, director of the division of hospitals and mental hygiene for the state, has been named as the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board, asking $100,000 for the first 24-hour program at the institution which it hoped will become a definite project.

A conference will probably be held in the near future between the recreation staff and officials of the Central State Hospital.

The Middletown Civic Club is making arrangements to offer a tract of land lying adjacent to the Middletown freestone to the county as a site for the first 24-hour fire station to be erected in the first district. It is expected that the Fiscal Court will accept the proffer.

Any Jefferson Countians interested in recreation are spending their time in the weekly staff meetings held at 10:30 Saturday afternoon at the Neighborhood House, 428 S. First Street.

Special instruction is given at this time in different playground and recreation activities including folk games, music, arts and crafts.

Bourbon Beef Entries Must Be In By July 1

Louisville, June 24.—Closing date for entries in the $5,000 Kentucky Bourbon Beef Show has been set at midnight July 1, 1946, according to Samuel R. Guard, president of the Bourbon Beef Association. The Bourbon Beef Show will be held at the Bourbon Stock Yards, Louisville, on December 17 and 18.

The association is offering $5,000 in premium money to Kentuckians showing "Bourbon Bevels." All Kentuckians, any age, are eligible to enter the show. Only 500 entries are being accepted this year due to the feed shortage.

According to Guard, almost all the 500 entries have been received. Requests for entry blanks as a postmark before midnight July 1 will be honored. Requests for entry blanks should be addressed to James R. Rash, Jr., secretary, Bourbon Beef Association, Bourbon Stock Yards, Louisville 6, Ky.

To be eligible as "Bourbon Beef," all cattle entered in the show must be fed a minimum of one and a fourth pounds of distillers dried grains or one pound of distillers dried solubles per day. Offing prices such as $1,000 to the grand champion steer, $1,000 to the champion carload of 15 head, and $500 to the reserve champion steer, the Bourbon Beef Association has set up the richest fat cattle show in the South and the third richest in the entire nation.

Return of War Dead

The War Department has completed the repatriation of 328,000 World War II deceased military and naval personnel buried outside the continental United States. The law (Public Law 383, 79th Congress) as administered, families will have the option of: (1) Having the remains returned to the United States for interment in a National Cemetery near their home. The cost of this will be born entirely by the Government. (2) Returning the remains to the United States for interment in a National Cemetery or in a private cemetery or on a family plot. (3) Having the remains returned to the United States for interment in a National Cemetery or in a private cemetery or on a family plot. (4) Having the remains returned to the United States for interment in a National Cemetery or in a private cemetery or on a family plot.

In addition to service personnel, the return and burial program applies to American civilians buried overseas since September 8, 1939, who were engaged in war work or whose death was directly the result of war. This includes Government employees, Red Cross workers, War Relocation Authority workers, Merchant Marine personnel. They will not be buried in military cemeteries in the United States, however, they may be shipped to the United States for burial.

The shipment of deceased soldiers and sailors will be in special funeral vehicles. Liberty ships, tankers, and plane carriers will be adapted for the work. They will be painted white with a wide black band around the middle. On arrival, the flag-draped caskets will be transferred to military trucks and taken to the redistribution points in special funeral trains composed of converted hospital coaches.

It is estimated that the bodies will arrive in the United States beginning next year at the initial rate of 100 a month, increasing to about 15,000 monthly by the end of 1947.

The Army and Navy will begin at once to address next of kin of completely identified deceased soldiers and sailors. The process will take some time, and the inquiries will be handled by the War Relocation Authority. The process will take some time, and the inquiries will be handled by the War Relocation Authority.

In nine 4-H clubs in Bourbon County, there are 620 members enrolled, surpassing the goal by 120.

CATHOLIC INFORMATION

Sponsored by REV. JOSEPH A. NEWMAN

WITHOUT BENEFIT OF MIRACLES

Was Jesus God? The Catholic Church says yes, because she has always taught that he was God and she never changes her teachings. The teaching is based on the New Testament, relating the life and miracles of Jesus. But in recent times, some have advocated leaving the miracles out of the Gospel. They are "unscientific," have been their cry.

So, just for fun, we tried it one day. We took a blue pencil and scratched through every miracle in the New Testament. And what had we remaining? It was amazing.

We had the story of a man who claimed He was greater than Solomon and Jesus (Matthew 12:41-42); greater than King David, who had spoken of Him as "My Lord" (Matthew 22:41-46), greater than Moses and Elias (Mark 9:9-10). In fact, Jesus told the people that among those born of women there had not yet risen a greater than John the Baptist. Yet, He went on to say, the least among His followers was greater than the Baptist (Matthew 11:11-12).

He claimed to be greater even than all the angels, speaking of Himself. He said, "I am the Son of Man, and I will sit on the throne of David." The Son of Man shall send his angels" (Matthew 13:41) - "His angels," notice. And again, "He described the Day of Judgment."

Dead Man's Curve Gets Safety Work

After many months of study and under the urging and cooperation of T. B. Claxton, a resident of Tucker Station, the section of that thoroughfare known as "dead man's curve" because of the number of accidents that marked the spot, is getting remedial attention from the county road department under the supervision of county road engineer, W. B. Roberts.

At the point where the Tucker Station Road enters the Taylorville Road approximately a mile east of Jeffersontown, the former road angles and twists down to the bridge. An obstructed view of the approach to the bridge and a narrow stretch of road has created a traffic hazard that Claxton, whose farm lies in the forks of the road, has urged the county to eliminate.

Robards, who just recently assumed new duties as road engineer was impressed with the dangerous features of the "S" curve in a way making it imperative that he take the road more safe, decided to reduce the grade, widen the road on the curves and to bank the road shoulders to lessen the chance of overturn.

So, the most dangerous features of "dead man's curve" are to be eliminated through the public spirited efforts of a citizen and the cooperative action of a county engineer.

When Fannie Stoll turned out a top-notch picnic for Jeffersontown's whole countryside marveled at her ability to coordinate and organize.

Wherever Fannie went, her list for the last time this summer the county will really have seen something stupendous. Miss Stoll is attempting a project which, as far as the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board is concerned, has never been accomplished anywhere before.

Her plans call for the organization of a county-wide band from the playgrounds of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board. Many Jeffersonians have said it was "impossible." On the surface they seem right, but after only two weeks of working on the project, the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board has a hand on the prize.

Joan Brown, Shirley Hewitt, and Carl Miller sound mighty well when they answer the down beat as do Ray Cress, who is a member of the band. Miss Margaret Clayton, and Miss Helen Watson, who are working with the band, have never yet been cooperating in supplying choral groups and instrumental numbers.

The Fiscal Court In Action

JUNE 12, 1946

Report of County Treasurer James E. Clark, presented and filed. The county's balance as of June 11, 1946 was $507,391.69.

Ray Baer, Supervisor of the Jefferson County Recreation Board, and William Pennycook, Welfare Director, appeared before the Court to request permission to use approximately twelve acres of ground on the northeast portion of the Jefferson County Poor Farm at Jeffersontown for a colored recreation park. Court agreed. Mr. James Wilson, the head of the recreation committee at Jeffersontown.

Mr. Ray Baer also asked for more space for the Recreation Board. If, as it is reported, the Industrial Center on the second floor of the basement of the Bowman Field July 1, then office space can be made available at this location.

Mr. Baer also requested the matter of use of county cars straightened out, and he and Mr. Crenshaw will set up an appropriate schedule.

Mr. Pennycook requested the Court's permission to use the third floor of the Bowman Field for the blind man's stand. It has again developed that the blind man's stand should be located in the basement of the Fiscal Court Building doesn't make enough money to warrant his operation of his business in the present location. So Mr. Pennycook was instructed to consult with the Blind Institute authorities to work out some way to help the man.

Gum-ball machines were approved by the Court. The proceeds from these will go to the Local Club of this area, to be in the interest of underprivileged children.

A delegation composed of Messrs. J. W. Crenshaw, W. B. Whitlow, Ray Doolittle, and Lee A. Laswell—all living in the neighborhood of 21st and Allison, appeared before the Court to request help on their serious problem of surface drainage.

They were referred to the Board of Public Works for consideration. The principal feature of the drainage is increasing constantly in popularity.

Community Cannery At Valley Open July 10

To facilitate the preservation of food for family and school use the Jefferson County Board of Education in cooperation with the State Board of Education has set up a modern community cannery at Valley High School for use by families in this area.

It was announced today by Raymond Layne, Teacher of Agriculture at Valley High School, that the cannery will be opened to the public on Wednesday July 10, at 8 A. M. The days for canning will be Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of each week during the canning season. The hours will be 8:00 A. M. to 1:00 P. M. for receiving food for processing.

Mr. Layne requests that anyone planning to use the cannery should come early in the morning and not later than 10:00 P. M.

The boiler has been reconditioned and put in first class condition and a new sealer for gallon cans has been purchased by the local P.T.A. groups in this patronage area.

Mrs. Floye Beam will again be the canning teacher. She has proven herself to be a capable and willing teacher for the past two seasons. Harrison Saltkill, student of Vocational Agriculture at Valley, will be plant engineer this season.

Due to inflation and necessity for the cannery to be self-supporting, the charge for cans and processing will be 6 cents for pints, 8 cents for quarts, and 16 cents for gallons until further notice.

For further information call Raymond Layne at Pleasure Ridge 7421 or West Point 35-J, or Mrs. Beam at Pleasure Ridge 7384, and watch announcements and articles in this paper.

'S FUNNY

How Folks Store Stuff In An Attic When They Can Cash In With A WANT AD

Treat it as though it were your "Last Tractor"

Abundant supplies of nylon hose will not be available before next year.

Reasons for the continuing shortage of nylon hose are the facts that the country is depending more and more exclusively on nylon to fill its needs, as the rayon formerly used for stockings is being used for clothing, and there is a lack of both machinery and skilled labor for the making of rayon and nylon.

According to an article in the June issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, it is based on a long and wide investigation of the nylon situation.

Charges that the nylon hose shortage resulted from hoarding by manufacturers who were holding them back for higher prices, or that it had been caused by manufacturers shipping them out of the country were found to be absolutely untrue in the investigation.

For the future, the picture is somewhat brighter according to the article, which states in part: "The entire industry is confident that the shortage will be solved by the end of the year. Also it is evident that in 1947—wide service of the country's needs will be met by a great deal of new machinery, with a great deal of new machinery and with an equally well developed in-labor—the production of stockings can reach a level which will insure abundant supply."

The GARDEN

By JOHN S. GARDNER

Early potatoes are now being dug and an estimate can be made as to whether there will be enough to last through the winter. However, under the best conditions it is the nature of early varieties to start sprouting soon after Christmas, and a late crop is needed to fill in. Here are three possibilities.

Several weeks ago, Green Mountain was named here, northern growers' surplus now being offered as tablestock. These potatoes may be recognized by their cream-colored sprouts. Planting time is until July 4.

Another is the "July potato" that many farmers use for planting until July 15. Still another is Irish Cobbler, utilizing seed that has been held in cold storage, and planting from July 15 to August 1.

The usually hot and dry season that late potatoes undergo makes several special treatments necessary. The land should be broken before the spring rains quit, and it should be disked and dragged three or four times to hold all the moisture possible. Planting should be three inches deeper than early potatoes and the fertilizer should be placed as deep as possible, to put the roots in moist soil. Also, this makes level cultivation possible, an advantage in dry weather. The seed pieces should be somewhat larger than they should be, as a safeguard against moisture being sucked out by dry soil. Treatment of the seed for scab, important always, is essential for the late crop, as hot, dry weather promotes scab.

These and other details of potato growing are fully discussed in Kentucky Extension Circular No. 302, a copy of which may be obtained from county agents or from the Experiment Station, Lexington.

Emblematic of peace in a peace loving nation, and quietly reminding that day is America's greatest industry. It is a familiar scene, as American as the Stars and Stripes. A heap of corn, peacefully grating over green fields, corn that never heard of the hostile guns, that never saw the ravages of war. Such a scene, somehow, symbolizes the American love of peace, home, and good eating.

"I like to think of the railroads as partners of mine—in the business of making this house home I want it to be for my family."
